PASTOR'S PEN

Greetings in Christ Jesus!

In this Sunday's Gospel, Mary Magdalene finds the empty tomb and runs to the apostles to tell them her astonishing news.

According to John, Mary of Magdala is the best prototype of what probably happens to all of them. The other Gospel writers gather a different tradition that describes a search by the whole group of women.

The Beloved Disciple was present with Peter to see the discarded burial-cloths within the tomb, and he at once realized what this meant: that Jesus was risen from the dead!

For those who don't understand, no words are possible, and for those who do understand, no words are necessary. That's the sense we have when reading the resurrection story. It tells of a deeply mysterious fact, but we can't quite capture what its impact was within the hearts of his followers, that first Easter day.

Faith in Jesus, raised by the Father, didn't spring up easily or spontaneously within the hearts of the disciples. Before their meeting with him, now full of new life, the Gospel writers talk about their confusion, their search around the tomb, their questions and uncertainties.

Faith in the risen Christ isn't born spontaneously in us either today, just because we have listened from childhood to catechists and preachers. In order to open us to faith in Jesus' resurrection, we need to make our own way.

If we want to meet the risen Christ, full of life and creative energy, we need to seek him, not just by observing external laws and norms, but where people live according to Jesus' Spirit, where people are welcomed with faith, love and responsibility.

We need to seek him, not among people who are divided and engaged in unproductive battles but where we go about building communities that put Christ in their center.

He is the one who lives and who gives life.

Happy Easter!
Fr.Maschio.

CHILD ABUSE AWARENESS/PREVENTION MONTH

Did you know... Hope is rising. Throughout scripture there is evidence that we are called to be ambassadors of hope and healing. Did you know children of abuse long to hear this message of hope. Victims of crime, their family and loved ones need to know that their voices are heard. Organizations throughout the nation are striving to share the message that He has risen and there is hope. Each of us has a unique ability to support individuals who are hurting, to promote healthy relationships, and to build communities that are safe from those who may want to do harm. How has He called you to be an ambassador of hope and healing?
